THIRTY-SEVENTH YEAR

BUILDING SITES ARE SECURED

First Steps Taken on School Program by Board

PLAYGROUNDS CONSIDERED

Land Acquired Costs Approximately $21,000

Building sites to carry out the school extension program authorized in the $540,000 bond issue have been secured by the board of education.

This announcement was made Wednesday night at the time the board of education made public the policy to be followed in erecting the new school buildings.

In addition to securing sites for the new grade schools, playground sites have been obtained for two schools where pupils were compelled to spend their recess periods playing in alleys.

The sites secured by the board of education include: lot, approximately 50 by 200, directly East of Washington school on E. Kibby-st; three of the five lots on the north side of Vine-st between Pine and St. John-st; the Jacob Garrison property, directly west of the Lowell school; and five lots on the north side of W. Spring-st, between Nixon and Glenwood-avs.

The approximate cost of the land which has been acquired by the board is $21,000, which various members of the board assert is an extremely low figure.

Options on all sites were obtained by the board of education prior to the election and have been taken up since the passage of the bond issue.

The lot east of the Washington school will be used for playground purposes. It was said. Pupils in this school have been compelled to spend their recess periods in alleys and the grounds around the school are so small that only one-third of the school's enrollment could be given a recess at one time.

The school board has been considering the purchase of this lot for several years. Negotiations were completed since election day.

Washington school is one of the largest schools in the city and the playground will increase the efficiency of the school, it is said.

Two houses are now standing on the property. They will be razed shortly and the ground leveled off. The Jacob Garrison property west of the Lowell school is also to be used for playground purposes and is approximately the same size as the Washington school addition.

At the time of the purchase of property for South High school five years ago, the site contained nearly 60 different lots. With the exception of the five lots on the north side of Vine-st, the board of education acquired all the land in the block. The present purchase includes three of the lots and present plans of the board call for condemnation proceedings for the remaining sites, which are needed for school purposes.

TAKES FIVE LOTS

The site for one of the new grade school buildings was secured by the purchase of five extremely large lots on W. Spring-st.

This site was purchased as it will not only care for expansion of the city in the west but will also provide relief for the Horace Mann and Lowell schools. Were the new school to be located either north or south of the chosen situation, it would fall to offer surplusage to other schools. It was stated.

The building policy announced by the board provides for the expenditure of the entire bond issue of $540,000 in school sites and buildings. Cost of equipping and furnishing the buildings will be paid for out of savings of the operating expenses in the next two years.

This policy, which is a radical departure from the custom in other Ohio cities, will have the effect of lessening the life of the bonds authorized recently and will make certain that approximately $500,000 of the total bond issue will be expended for buildings.

In discussing prices paid for the new school properties, it was stated that the board of education paid $28,000 for the Faurst site where a new grade school is to be located. Recently, however, the board received an offer of slightly over $50,000 for this land, but the offer was refused because the board of education decided that the site was ideal for a school building.

At present the Faurst site is occupied by a six-room school—formerly the Baxter homestead—which will be dismantled and a new building erected.

SURVEY PLANNED

Altho sites for the new schools have been obtained, plans for the buildings will not be drawn up until after a survey is made of new school buildings in other cities, it was said.

Besides the erection of new school buildings, the bond issue provides for the enlargement of the Franklin building to the same site as the Central High school. To do this an addition will be built to each end of the present structure.

South High will also be enlarged to meet present-day needs it was said.

Work on the Franklin building and South High school will start soon, according to one member of the board.

PRICE THREE CENTS

U.S.-CHINESE CLASH IS THREATENED

"Christians Do Not Meet Test" PACTS BROKEN IN YANKS' CAPTURE

ARE INDIFFERENT, BIEDERWOLF SAYS

Evangelist Attacks Shams, Flays Carelessness

THOUSAND PLEDGE SERVICE

Three Great Sermons Are Heard by Vast Numbers

Attacking indifference of mankind toward their God, Evangelist W. E. Biederwolf in his tabernacle sermon Thursday afternoon on "The Smoothest Man in the Bible," asserted that the trouble with the religious life of this day is that men and women who call themselves Christians are not willing to meet the test.

Reference was made to Jacob, of Biblical times. He was pictured as a smooth man in more than one sense. He was too smooth for his stupid brother Esau and too smooth for his old father Isaac and altogether too smooth for his old uncle Laban, who, by the way, was quite a smooth individual himself—he was the Shylock of the Old Testament. But Jacob was at his wit's end at the ford of Jabbok. When hard pressed and the future looked dark, he called on God.

"That's always the way," Biederwolf said, "when you are in distress and then forget him when you're in prosperity and everything's all right."

"Good men will spend hours every day reading the newspaper, but they are too busy to give ten minutes a day to a personal interview with God," he said.

"They'll talk politics and country club with their neighbor and then say: 'Too busy, God, I'll see you some other time.' You are a member of the church and you'll spend whole afternoons reading a novel, but you haven't got time to read your Bible. You'll spend a whole hour before the looking glass with a curling iron, a powder rag and an eyebrow pencil, but when it comes to falling on your knees before God, you're not there."

DOING YOUR 'DUTY'

"It's not that you haven't time; you don't care."

"You run your business six days in the week and some of you part of the seventh and then on Sunday morning, after filling your mind with the contents of the Sunday newspaper, go down to the House of God, if the weather is good, and enjoy a little music, tolerate a sermon and drop a nickel or a plugged nickel in the collection plate and think that's enough to satisfy God, but when you come to die you'll say: 'Oh, God, what a fool I have been!'"

Striking more directly at those who fail in their Christian duties, Biederwolf asserted: "I don't know when God will speak or how He'll speak, and you'll hear His voice some day and then you'll want to whine your way back to the days of your old faith."

"You know a hog never does look up—in fact, he can't look up until he gets on his back. And there are a lot of people like hogs in this respect. That street car conductor won't pray; till he gets on his back and the Lord dangles a shroud over him. And that society woman will forget all about God and all about modesty and put on a dirty, indecent, suggestive low-cut dress, but when the hearse backs up and you have to carry the body out, then it's a different proposition and you tell God you're sorry."

WORKERS, SHIRKERS

"The church is composed of workers, shirkers and shirkers, Dr. Biederwolf said Wednesday night. "The church should be composed of only one class; a big flock of co-operating workers but in truth the shirkers and shirkers are in the majority."

He likened the church to an old fashioned stage coach with first, second and third class passengers. "When the church comes to a mountain," he said, "the first-class passengers sit still in their seats, which only makes it hard for the coach to get up the side of the big hill. But they are indifferent. They have paid their way. The rest is all up to the preacher. He will master the hill some way. The second class passengers get out and walk. They are too busy looking at the sights along the way to notice how the big climb is made. But what about the third class passengers? There are only a few of them, but they get out and push and with their help the preacher at last gets the church over the mountain. The church will never fail; it will always master its difficulties, but how much easier it would be if the members would all get behind it and push."

More than 6,000 attending the service. A thousand professed Christians advanced to the platform and pledged Dr. Biederwolf they would do all in their power toward bringing outsiders into the fold.

MME. LUELLA MELIUS, ABOVE, AND GANNA WALSKA.

The operatic world is "up in the air" over the controversy which has come to light between Mme. Luella Melius, soprano of the Chicago opera, and Ganna Walska, prima donna wife of Harold McCormick. Mme. Melius charges that Ganna stole her manager, G. Jules Daiber, and has had an injunction issued against Daiber, Walska and McCormick which would halt their concert tour. "Pooh-pooh," was all Daiber would say about it.

GRISWOLD MAY BE NAMED SPEAKER

Prominently Mentioned in Forecast of G. O. P. Caucus

COLUMBUS, (United Press)—Robert Dunn, Wood-co, and H. H. Griswold, Geauga-co, were mentioned prominently today for speaker of the house in the new 85th general assembly, convening here January 1.

Speaker of the last house, Rupert Beetham, is not a member of the new legislature and his failure to return opens the way for a number of others to seek the job. No doubt there will be considerable of a scrap for the speakership when the 103 Republican representatives caucus here this week.

Dunn opposed Beetham for the job two years ago but Griswold today appeared to have a slight advantage, according to discussions in Republican circles. Griswold was prominent in the taxation wrangles of the last session of the legislature.

OTHERS MENTIONED

In event a compromise candidate is put up, A. C. Robbins, Lawrence-co, C. H. Freeman, Hardin-co, and J. H. Gordon, Logan-co, will have a strong chance.

The Republican caucus will be called by Representative John H. Chester, Paulding-co, leader of the Cornstalk Club, senior member of the majority in point of service. This will be Chester's fifth term.

Representative I. S. Atkins, Franklin-co, Democratic floor leader in the last session, apparently is slated to be floor leader for the delegation of 27 Democrats in the coming session. Being decidedly in the minority the Democrats probably will not caucus until after the new session opens.

Of the 130 members in the coming legislature only 58 served in the 84th assembly, 54 Republicans and four Democrats.

New members will include six women, the first to sit as members of the Ohio legislature. They are: Mrs. Nettie M. Clapp, Cleveland Heights; Mrs. May Vanwyke, Cincinnati; Mrs. C. J. Ott, Youngstown; and Mrs. Lulu T. Gleason, Youngstown. All are Republicans.

Two other women, Mrs. Maude C. Watt, Lakewood and Mrs. Nettie B. Loughhead, Cincinnati, both Republicans, will sit in the Senate.

TRAIN WORKER INJURED IN 23 FOOT FALL AT DELPHOS

D. V. Bell, Carer, member of a crew of workmen engaged in painting a new enginehouse in the Northern Ohio yards, Delphos, was painfully injured Thursday morning when a rope on a lift slipped and caused him to fall 23 feet to the ground.

No bones were broken, but Bell was bruised and scratched about the head and body. He was given attention by a Delphos physician.

SMITH IS WINNER FOR CORONER

Error in Tabulation of Vote Gives Him 10 Majority

LANDS OVER DR. A. C. ADAMS

Discrepancy in Delphos—Suit to be Withdrawn

Dr. Frank Smith will be the next coroner of Allen-co.

He will succeed Dr. A. C. Adams, Republican, in that office on January 1, 1923.

An error of ten votes in the tabulation taken from the tally sheet in the election on November 7 in Precinct B, Second ward of Delphos, was discovered by members of the board of elections Thursday, which gives Dr. Smith an official majority of ten, Chief Deputy J. M. Madigan stated.

In the presence of the members of the board, C. A. Stoodt, H. E. Simonton, William Roeder, J. M. Madigan, Clerk Art Morris and Prosecuting Attorney Eugene Lippincott, Thursday noon, the discrepancy between the number of votes on the tally sheet from the Delphos precinct and the total in the official exhibit prepared by the board of elections, was shown.

ERROR IN COUNTING

The Delphos tally sheet gave Dr. Smith 93 votes in Precinct B. Copied in the office of the board of elections here, the total for that precinct was given as 83. The official result, until the discrepancy was located was a tie, each of the candidates having received 9,493 votes. In a drawing by lot, Dr. Adams was declared selected.

Disclosure of the error, which gives Dr. Smith a majority of ten votes and the election, was preceded Wednesday by a suit filed in the court of appeals by attorneys for Dr. Smith, attacking the validity of the manner and time of deciding the tie by lot. Dr. Smith holding that such decision by lot should not have been made until eight days after the election, whereas it was done immediately after the official count was completed.

The court of appeals, Judges Phil M. Crow and E. N. Warden, granted a writ of mandamus, ordering members of board of elections to make such decision by lot or show cause why it had not been according to law, as required by Section 6,102 of General Code of Ohio.

The appeals court suit will be withdrawn at once, it is stated.

Chief Deputy J. M. Madigan of the board of deputy state supervisors of elections for Allen-co stated Thursday that application will be made at once to Secretary of State Harvey C. Smith for the return of the official abstract of the vote of this county, for correction.

Certificate of election will not be issued to Dr. Smith until after the error is corrected in the abstract.

SMITH PLEASED

"I was informed of it today," Dr. Smith declared when approached concerning the error discovered. "Naturally, I am very much gratified with the turn of events."

When informed by The Lima News that a recount of the votes had given Dr. Smith a majority of ten votes, and that his opponent was elected coroner, Dr. A. C. Adams gave vent to a hearty laugh and seemed to be amused at the turn of affairs.

Dr. Adams seemed to regard the result of the recount as amusing and would make no statement save that he thought the incident to be funny.

LOSES FIGHT TO ESCAPE PRISON

W. B. Lloyd, Wealthy Communist, Must Serve Time

CHICAGO — (Associated Press)—The two-year fight of William Bross Lloyd, wealthy Communist, to escape a five-year penitentiary sentence for violation of the Espionage Act, ended at midnight when, according to word received here, Chief Justice Thompson of the Illinois supreme court announced he would deny Lloyd's motion to stay sentence until December 15.

Lloyd and 18 other members of the Communist party were convicted in Chicago in August, 1920. They were accused of conspiring overthrow of the government.

Chief Clerk Vail of the state supreme court today expected to issue the necessary papers for Lloyd's imprisonment.

In addition to the prison sentence Lloyd was fined $2,000. He inherited a fortune from his father, the late Henry D. Lloyd, rich Boston philanthropist. He was a close friend of William (Bill) Haywood, former I. W. O. leader who fled to Russia last year to escape a 20 year prison sentence.

MRS. PHILLIPS IS CONVICTED OF SECOND DEGREE MURDER

Found Guilty of Hammering Woman to Death

JEALOUSY BACK OF CRIME

Verdict Carries Imprisonment of 10 Years to Life

LOS ANGELES — (United Press)—A jury today found Mrs. Clara Phillips guilty of murder in the second degree in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Alberta Meadows.

Mrs. Phillips beat Mrs. Meadows to death with a hammer, because, of jealousy of her husband's attentions to the woman, the state charges.

The jury by its verdict decreed that Mrs. Phillips in beating Mrs. Meadows to death, acted under extreme provocation.

Nine men and three women rendered the verdict which was returned after approximately 23 1/2 hours of deliberation at 10:30 a. m. today.

PENALTY PRESCRIBED

Ten years to life imprisonment will be the penalty.

Eight of the jurors, including the three women, voted for murder in the first degree. Foreman J. McSwain stated.

The compromise on second degree murder was reached after eight ballots had been taken.

"We voted for second degree murder after we found it was impossible to get an agreement on a straight conviction," McSwain said. "Eight of us, including the women, wanted to hang her."

"Well, it could have been a lot worse," said Mrs. Phillips to Deputy Sheriff Frank Dewar, her guard, after she had quickly recovered her composure.

She smiled at the court room crowd, and apparently was satisfied with the result.

AUTOISTS JAILED

Seventeen Sentenced by Court in Cleveland

CLEVELAND — (Associated Press)—Seventeen motorists were given jail sentences today ranging from five to eight days and fined by Traffic Judge Sawicki in a new effort by police to check the series of traffic accidents responsible for almost daily fatalities and, which have brought the traffic death toll up to 110 for the year. Most of the drivers sentenced to the workhouse or county jail were charged with speeding (altho several) were sentenced for driving while intoxicated.

The 110th victim of fatal traffic accidents this year was a 79 year old woman who died this morning.

Milk Floods Streets When Autos Crash

Sure Might Have Been Lot Of Ice Cream, Opines Policeman

"Boy, if it were some colder, there sure would have been a lot of ice cream out there."

Thus did Webb Harrison, desk clerk at police headquarters, summarize an automobile accident at the corner of Market and Metcalf-sts, early Thursday.

An automobile driven by an unidentified man who left the scene of the accident immediately after striking himself from the wreckage, police say, crashed into a milk truck driven by Roy Fetter, 230 S. Pine-st.

The impact threw the truck on its side and dumped milk bottles helter skelter over the hard pavement. A virtual flood of bovine product deluged the street intersection. Harrison said the scene gave the impression that a fire plug conveying milk had burst.

Broken bottles were scattered all over the street. It was impossible to estimate the quantity of milk lost, Fetter said, without checking over his supply.

NO ONE WAS HURT

Both machines were badly damaged. No one was hurt. Fetter was driving south on Metcalf. The touring car was going west on Market.

Investigation later in the day revealed that the license on the touring car had been issued to A. R. Mittler, 621 E. Market-st. Police were seeking him during the day to learn who was driving the car at the time of the accident.

Police asked City Engineer Vaughn Miller to clear the street of broken glass, and to aid the wasted milk in finding its way into city sewers.

160 TO LOSE JOBS

Cincinnati Will Dismiss Employees to Cut Expenses

CINCINNATI — (Associated Press)—Twelve engine houses of the Cincinnati fire department will be closed and between 120 and 160 men dismissed in a plan to cut expenses of the city, Charles E. Tudor, safety director of Cincinnati, announced today. He said this action is forced upon the city administration by the failure of a proposed extra tax levy to carry at the recent election.

Captain J. J. Conway, superintendent of the Underwriters' Salvage Corporation, when informed of Tudor's announcement said it will mean a reclassification and increase in rates of insurance for Cincinnati.

Washington Demands Immediate Release of Missionaries

VIGOROUS NOTE SENT PEKING

Free Prisoners or Drastic Action Follows, It Says

PEKING — (Associated Press) — Measures for the immediate release of the foreign missionaries kidnapped by Chinese bandits were demanded of the Peking government today by the American, British, Italian, French and Swedish ministers who acted under instructions from their governments.

The five ministers presenting a joint note called in person and informed executives of the Chinese republic that the continued retention of the missionaries in captivity would not be tolerated by the powers.

The powers, it was said, would be compelled to act drastically unless the missionaries were released and guarantees given for the future safety of the hundreds of other missionaries in China.

TREATIES VIOLATED

The note is written in vigorous language. It declared that the missionaries are carrying on their work in the interior of China under treaties which have been violated by the abductors.

It is understood that Washington instructed Jacob Gould Schurman, the American minister, to impress upon China the seriousness of the bandits' activities in detaining foreigners for political motives.

Dr. Schurman protested only in behalf of two American captives but joined the other ministers in a general complaint against interference with the treaty rights of missionaries.

PROTECTION ASKED

HANKOW, China — (Associated Press)—American, British and French residents of the province, alarmed at the increase of lawlessness and the appearance of an apparently organized campaign against foreigners, have applied jointly to their legations for protection.

U. S.—JAP RELATIONS

TOKIO — (Associated Press)—Continued moderation marks the Japanese press comment on the decision of the United States supreme court holding Japanese ineligible for naturalization as American citizens. In some circles here, however, it is believed that the underlying feeling is more bitter.

The Yozoro Cholo, an independent daily, predicts that the decision will impair friendly relations between the two countries.

The Japan Times, an English-language paper now owned and edited by Japanese, declared that the time is not far distant when all Japanese would be driven out of America.

LIBERALIZING OF DRY ACT SEEN

Forecast by Harding, Says Report from New York

NEW YORK — (United Press)—President Harding in a letter to Mrs. Corinne Roosevelt Robinson, forces a "liberalizing of the prohibition enforcement act," according to Mrs. Robinson's interpretation. She read the letter to members of the Republican Neighborhood Association, last evening, but refused to show it to reporters who were present. She could not be reached at her home this morning, when an attempt was made to confirm her statement.

Mrs. Robinson told members of the association that the president had written her that he did not expect the amendment to be abolished, but that "undoubtedly the public mind was shifting somewhat in regard to prohibition enforcement," and that while it would never be removed from politics, it would lose some of its importance as a political issue after the enforcement laws had been liberalized.

CONGRESS DRY

WASHINGTON — (United Press)—The dries hold a two-thirds majority in the new congress.

Wets' hopes of amending the Volstead act must be deferred until after next election at least.

Warne E. Whelan, legislative chief of the Anti-Saloon League, told the United Press today a careful canvass of the new congressmen had been made and that as a result dry leaders are confident they still control.

ORGY OF MURDER IN NORTHLAND

Eskimo, Puzzled by White Man's Law, Slaying Brothers

LESSON OF JUSTICE MISSES

Royal Mounted Police Will Establish Special Court

MONTREAL (Special)—Ouangwak, the Eskimo, has gone back to his Arctic home very dubious about civilization.

Ouangwak killed two other Eskimos, was captured after a 2000-mile chase, was well fed and treated kindly during the two years he was held prisoner, was tried by a white man's jury and found guilty—and then was pardoned and allowed to go home.

"Why don't you shoot me?" he said in his own language to Sergeant W. O. Douglas, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who suffered two months of hardship in his long chase to the scene of the crime, 150 miles north of Chesterfield Inlet, at the northern tip of Hudson Bay, almost inside the Arctic Circle.

"That is not the law," said Sergeant Douglas.

Puzzled by Law
Ouangwak trembled when at last in Montreal he faced the strange, silent, ominous men in the courtroom.

"Why doesn't the Big Chief dressed like a woman?" he asked, pointing to the judge.

The Eskimo, who frankly admitted killing two brothers, Angoolik and Aleumuck, and stealing the wife of one of them, couldn't understand.

Nor can the other Eskimos in the Canadian Northland. The white man's laws puzzle them. They don't understand that Ouagwak's chase has been more murder by Eskimos. One of them, Alukomik, has confessed to the killing of Corporal Rank, of the mounted, and Otto Blader, of the Hudson's Bay Company.

No more will be brought all the way to Montreal. Inspector Wood of the mounted is giving them preliminary hearings at Herschel Island, and a special court will be established in the far north next spring to try them.

TEACHING THEM JUSTICE
"The Eskimo mind cannot understand," said Inspector Wood. "When they kill they expect to be killed. We take them away and their friends give them up for dead. Yet they come back—free. We've tried to teach them the lesson of justice—but it has missed fire."

The chase after Ouagwak, first Eskimo to be tried for murder, began Dec. 19, 1919, and it was 107 before Douglas, described by frightened Eskimo guides, reached the igloos of the Paddemut tribe north of Baker Lake. Biting frozen reindeer meat with the chief of the tribe and bestowing gifts of tobacco, he finally learned the killer's whereabouts.

The return trip to Port Nelson, Manitoba, on the south shore of Hudson Bay, lasted until April 23. Thence the party went to Winnipeg and later to Montreal. In August, a trip covering months was made back to the scene of the murder on the Hudson Bay steamer "Nasopel," and on the second trip to Montreal last summer Ouagwak was tried. He has just returned to the Baker Lake region.

PRISON TERM FOR SPEEDERS URGED

Reckless Driving Worse Than Murder, Judge Declares

DETROIT, Mich. (United Press)—"The recent grave increase in accidents to children pedestrians throughout the United States, due to speeding and reckless driving of motorists offers an opportunity to justice that no traffic judge in America should overlook," said Judge Charles L. Bartlett, of Detroit, to the United Press today.

"I will go further and say that no American judge should be content to remain on the bench who is not exerting himself to the limit of his ability to stamp out this growing menace. It is even worse than murder, because it is an unaggravated crime."

"I have been told that there exist judges, who in actual fear of men of wealth and political influence, are allowing these 'child maimers,' these murderers, to actually escape with a small fine. I may say that I can scarcely believe this of any fellow jurist."

"I want the United Press to say emphatically that I most heartily recommend every traffic judge in America to follow my plan of imprisonment for traffic violators without option of a fine and in attacking them thru their conscience by taking them thru local hospital wards where children maimed because of recklessness must spend the rest of their lives in misery."

Organization of the employees of the various industries, public utilities and business houses into groups for the Red Cross membership campaign is being rounded into definite form, A. C. Calacab, general chairman, says.

Canvasing of the business section and the residence districts is consuming a little more time than was originally believed to be necessary, because of the disagreeable weather the early portion of the week.

This has made it necessary to extend the time of the campaign by two days or until the end of the week and reports will be due early next week as to the result of the solicitation.

It is believed the city's share of $10,000 will be raised when the complete report have been received. Calacab says and last year's record equaled it not surpassed.

VETO IS EXPECTED FOR GAS BILL

Delphos Mayor Hesitates to Approve New Rates

Signature of Mayor J. W. Williams of Delphos may be denied a veto ordinance the city council passed Tuesday night fixing charges the Delphos Gas company asks for artificial gas service.

Williams indicated Thursday he will not sign the ordinance for reasons contained in a charge of $1.10 for initial service, or the first 200 cubic feet. The ordinance may become effective however, but in event the mayor vetoes the bill it will require a two-thirds vote of council to pass it after the expiration of ten days.

Manager J. F. Weideman of the gas company is in conference with the mayor Thursday, seeking his signature, but it is not secured. According to Williams some plan should be devised to care for the "little fellow," a term applied to the small consumer, and extend the amount of gas affected by the initial charge. It smacks too much of the "readiness to serve" feature which was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court, the mayor stated.

Provisions of the ordinance are that in addition to the charge of $1.10 for the first 200, prices of $1.45 per 1,000 cubic feet for the next 10,000 and $1.25 for all over 10,200 cubic feet shall be paid for reduction on both the first 200 and each 1,000 thereafter. Bills are paid by the tenth of the month.

SHE FINDS GIRLS

Wealthy Society Woman Becomes Real Detective

NEW YORK (Special).—Mrs. Harry Louis Haas, wealthy society woman, was tied of the round of social life between her country home at Douglas Manor, Long Island, and her town house at 124 W. 56th.

She could no longer drive an ambulance in France, for the war was over. And nothing seemed to offer fresh thrills until—

She decided to become a police woman!

That was four years ago. Today she's one of the most valuable aids to the missing persons bureau of the New York police department.

She serves without compensation, she has the ranking of special investigator with all the privileges of a regular detective.

She wears a star—and sometimes she carries a "blackjack" and automatic pistol.

"I'm trying to put the human element into police work in New York," says Mrs. Haas. "The work I like best is that connected with runaway girls and there's enough of that to keep me busy."

With the cooperation of the missing persons bureau I'm trying to treat these girls kindly and with consideration. I'm trying to show them their mistake instead of treating them as criminals. And I think I've accomplished some real reforms."

"Mrs. Haas is one of our best workers," says Captain John H. Ayres, chief of the bureau. "She and her cat are always subject to our call at all hours of the day or night."

BIRTH CONTROL IS GROWING PERIL

All Walks of Life Permeated by Modern Evil

DR. BAER ARRAIGNS SOCIETY

Asserts Half of Married Women Among the Guilty

CHICAGO (Special)—More than half the married women of this country, of all classes and from all walks of life, are practicing some form of birth control, according to Dr. Joseph L. Baer, well known obstetrician and gynecologist, who spoke at a luncheon at the Chicago Women's club.

"The better class of women are engaging in the practice the same as are the poor and lower classes," said Dr. Baer. "The only difference in a majority of cases is that the wealthy ladies use highly scientific methods, while the indigent women are forced to submit to the quack doctor and the criminal abortionist."

The luncheon was given by the home and public welfare department of the club, and was the first of two inter-committee conferences on family limitation.

"There are hundreds of doctors and midwives in Chicago who are doing nothing but performing abortions," Dr. Baer said. "This is one of the greatest obstacles in the way of birth rate advancement."

"The time is at hand when the people of America should consider, without fear, that sex education regarding conception has a very great importance in the affairs of the people. For ages past the subject has been tabooed and only touched lightly. I believe that in the near future the people are going to wake up to the importance of the subject."

LARGES LARGE FAMILIES

"Nowadays there is a general limit of two or three children to a family of fair means. In the past there were ten or twelve. The people who can afford to do so should not stop at this number, but continue to build up a family."

"Of course, in the poorer districts there should be a measure of birth control. The indigent class and the insane should not be allowed to reproduce rapidly, for fear of bringing into the world great numbers of children who would have no place."

PLANT TO EXPAND

Lima Sheet Metal Products Co., Gets Building Permit

Tremendous increases in the business of the Lima Sheet Metal Products Co., have made it necessary for the construction of a shed and an addition to the building to be started, it was announced Thursday.

As the building is arranged at the present time there is very little room for storage of both raw materials and the finished products and it is believed the additions will relieve the condition.

Cost of the building will be $6,600. It will be so erected as to conform with the definite plan of expansion which has been laid out by the company. The building permit was obtained Thursday for the work.

New building during the first half of November is nearly three times as much as for the same period in October, records of building permits show.

So far this month new construction totaling $19,935 has been started as compared with construction of $5,870 in October. This is a gain of $14,065 in favor of November.

PRESENT WEATHER HUNTERS' DELIGHT

What's the matter with the weather? If anything, you tell it. Now, it's doubtful if anyone will have the nerve to kick on the present brand. Only a pessimist could do that.

Fair, continued cool tonight; Friday fair, with rising temperature. That's the program. If you don't like it, you can't change it and you'll have to be satisfied anyway. So, cheer up!

The rabbit hunter army has conditions as the greatest ever. Heavy frost in the morning, just enough to produce a little moisture when Old Sol gets busy.

While Bunny Cottontail is reported to be numerous this fall, hunters' hauls generally fail to give testimony to the alleged fact. The average sportsman is satisfied if he bags one as a result a full day tramp thru the woods and fields.

Speaks, Columbus, $1,250, of which all except $500 was contributed to Republican county committee. Republican national congressional committee gave $500 to Speaks' campaign fund.

CUNO WILL FORM GERMAN CABINET

Hamburg-American Steamship Line Head Accepts Post

BERLIN (Associated Press).—Wilhelm Cuno, general manager of the Hamburg-American Steamship Line, has accepted the task of forming a cabinet to succeed the Wirth ministry, it was unofficially announced this afternoon.

Wilhelm Cuno who has undertaken the formation of a new German ministry, is one of the outstanding industrial figures of the country who has within recent months become increasingly prominent in political affairs. He has been chiefly important in recent years as general manager of the Hamburg-American steamship lines. During the peace negotiations at Paris, Herr Cuno was among the German technical delegates.

Herr Cuno came prominently into political notice in 1920, when he was urged to accept the post of minister of finance in the reorganized cabinet. His refusal to act resulted in much criticism. Later he came to the United States and conferred with officials of the United States shipping board at Washington. The visit to this country is said to have brought about a working agreement between the German and American shipping lines.

He was again prominent at the Bussells financial conference in 1920, and was member of the committee of fifteen to evolve counter proposals to the allied reparation demands. Again last year he was urged to enter the cabinet, this time as minister of foreign affairs, and later he was mentioned as possible German ambassador to Washington.

Late last year Herr Cuno was reported to have resigned from some of the large shipping and industrial concerns of which Hugo Stinnes is the main figure.

Little Chats about the Drug Business

No. 2—NEXT WEDNESDAY

Something of Horn's Ideals

In the conduct of the drug business in general, it is unfortunate that certain ideals seem to have been forgotten.

Ideals that we stick to.

For instance, the highest attainment of the real drug store is the preparation of medicines on the prescriptions of physicians. Nothing is more important than this at The Market Street Drug Store.

It is not within the province of the druggist to advise methods of treatment. That is the physician's work.

Nor is it the business of the drug store with ideals to "push" the sale of the thousand and one utterly useless—and often harmful—nostrums that are continually being forced upon the public.

It is the Horn purpose and policy to sell everything that a good drug store should sell and to render the Lima public the highest type of drug store service.

In this series of little chats we shall, from week to week, explain the chief advantages of our service.

TRIUMPHS OF M. JONQUELLE

By MELVILLE DAVENSON POST

THE MAN WITH STEEL FINGERS
The great drawing-room thru which Monsieur Jonquelle advanced was empty.

But it was not silent. A vague music, like some weird conception of Tchaikovsky, seemed to float about the room, extending itself a thing that crept blindly and disturbed as the man would escape from something that followed it tirelessly and invisibly.

It required the fingers of a master, on the board of a keyed instrument, to produce these sounds. They came from the room beyond, a second drawing-room looking out on the Bois de Boulogne.

Monsieur Jonquelle had not allowed the servant to announce him. "One is not permitted to disturb the Lord Valleys at this hour," the servant had said.

Monsieur Jonquelle's card had added to the man's perplexity. One was also not permitted to deny an entrance, anywhere, at any hour, to the Prefect of Police of Paris. The man had made a hopeless gesture like one resigning himself to the inevitable.

Monsieur Jonquelle could not place the music in any remembered composition. It was not the work of his master that he knew. It was an improvisation of the fingers that produced it.

Presently he advanced into the room from which the music issued. He paused a moment in the doorway, watching the figure with white, nimble fingers hard as steel. Then he spoke.

"Your pardon, monsieur," he said to the Prefect of Police. "I am desolated to disturb you."

The man at the piano sprang up and turned swiftly at his body accomplished the act with a single motion.

To the eye, the man was strange. His shoulders were very broad and stooped, his face was wide, massive—the face of a Slav. His hair was thick, close and heavy, but it was not long, and affected, no mannerisms.

The man was very carefully dressed, after the English fashion, and with its well-bred restraint. But the impression he gave one was decidedly not English. It was that of a Slav adapted to an English aspect.

The eyes one did not see. One saw the eyes. They seemed to be hidden by heavy lids like curtained windows. And there was no expression in the face. The face was a mask. It seemed always in repose.

The big nose, the square, brutal jaw, and the wide planes of the face, were white as with a sort of pallor. Monsieur Jonquelle had a sudden, swift impression. It was a man who was either the greatest criminal or the greatest saint that he had ever seen.

Jonquelle had also a further impression of the man. He had meant to startle this man, and observe what followed. And he had startled him, but untrue to every experience, there was nothing to observe. The man's face remained without an expression, he was behind it hidden from every eye. It was a mask that could not be changed by the will of another. Monsieur Jonquelle would charge at the will of the man that it so admirably obscured. It was a thing he was not interested to discover.

It was only for an instant that the man was without expression. Then he smiled and came forward into the room. The smile began with a queer lifting of the lip and extended vaguely with but a slight change of the man's features.

His voice, when he spoke, was low, well modulated and composed. His manner was easy and gracious.

"Ah!" he said, "it is Monsieur Jonquelle, the Prefect of Police of Paris. I am honored."

Monsieur Jonquelle removed his gloves he sat a moment twisting them in his fingers like one in a certain embarrassment. His host, also seated, regarded him with the vague smile which appeared now.

THE MAN AT THE PIANO SPRANG UP AND TURNED SWIFTLY.

as a sort of background on the mask of his face. The Prefect of Police hesitated.

"Monsieur," he said, "I have called upon you for an opinion upon a problem which has always perplexed me. It is a problem upon which the opinions of persons without experience are wholly without value, and unfortunately, all those who have had experience and were, therefore, able to give me an opinion, have been always persons lacking in a certain element of intelligence. I have not had the opinion of a man of intelligence, who was also a man of experience, upon this problem."

He paused. The man before him did not reply. He waited as in a profound courtesy for Monsieur Jonquelle to complete the subject with which he had opened his discourse. He had taken a small chair, and he sat in it as a man of great strength and vigor and of an unusual bulk rests his weight upon something which he is uncertain will support it.

He did not move, but the expression in his face changed slightly. His eyebrows lifted as in a courteous inquiry. Monsieur Jonquelle went on. He seemed not entirely at ease.

"I shall not pretend at ignorance of your affairs, monsieur. The law-courts of England are brutal and direct. They have no consideration for anyone, and the press of those islands has a less restraint."

"When one is charged with a crime in England and comes into its courts, a humiliation is neglected. That one is innocent means nothing; that this innocence is presently demonstrated does not preserve one, in the events preceding such a verdict, from every imaginable humiliation."

Monsieur Jonquelle continued to hesitate. But he went on.

"Monsieur," he said, "out of this unfortunate experience you will have come, I feel, with a certain opinion."

The Prefect of Police looked up like one who with hesitation requests a favor from another.

Lord Valleys replied immediately. "I shall be very glad to give you my opinion upon any point in the matter," he said. "Surely I have been spared little. I have had every experience of humiliation. The criminal law of England is a bungling and cruel device. Those who find themselves concerned with it, I profoundly pity."

"There is no consideration of family or culture that in any way mitigates its severity or in any direction preserves one from odium, once the machinery of a criminal court of England is on its way. The experience of it is a horror to me, monsieur, but if it can result in any benefit to you or to another, I am willing to recall it. What is the problem, monsieur, upon which you wish to have my opinion?"

"It is this, monsieur," replied the Prefect of Police. "Is it your conclusion, upon this experience of life, that there is a Providence of God that undertakes to adjust the affairs of mankind—to assist the helpless and to acquit the innocent—or do you believe that it is the intelligence of man that accomplishes this result? . . . What is it, monsieur, that moves behind the machinery of the world—chance, luck, fortune or some sort of Providence?"

Lord Valleys seemed to reflect while the Prefect of Police was speaking; and he now replied with little hesitation.

"Chance, monsieur," he said, "is unquestionably the greatest and most mysterious factor in all human affairs, but it is modified and diverted by the human will. . . . Human intelligence, monsieur, and chance are the two factors."

The Prefect of Police continued to look down at his hands.

"I have heard your granular opinion, Lord Valleys," he said. "I think there is an intention behind events, a sort of will to justice, to righteousness, as one has said. It is not chance as we usually define the word, and the human will cannot circumvent it. . . . It is strange, as I see it, Lord Valleys."

"This thing we call human intelligence seems to be able to aid, to assist, to advance the vague, immense, impulsive forces behind events, and to delay and to disturb it, but not ultimately to defeat it."

"Take the extraordinary events that have happened to you, Lord Valleys, and tell me, if you can, how they could have arrived by chance!"

"Your uncle, Lord Winton, took the title and the whole properties of your family by the accident of birth. Your father, the second son, having no title and no fortune, entered the diplomatic service and was allotted to one of the little courts of southern Europe. He married your mother there, and you were born and grew up in the atmosphere of Serbia."

"There was little chance that you would ever have fortune or title. Lord Winton had two sons; one of them married an American; the other remained unmarried. There were three lives between you and this title and its immense estates in England. . . . What chance was there, monsieur, that these persons should be removed and these benefits descend to you?"

He paused.

"But they were removed, monsieur, and the benefits have descended. The war appeared. Both sons of Lord Winton lost their lives in it; Lord Winton is himself murdered; and you come, monsieur, from a shattered kingdom of southeastern Europe to be a peer of England with an immense estate. Even the American granddaughter of Lord Winton. That was, of course, this extraordinary English law of entail. Would you call this chance, monsieur?"

Lord Valleys found no difficulty at all with the inquiry. He replied directly.

"Monsieur," he said, "it was all clearly chance except the murder of Lord Winton. That was, of course, design."

Another installment in this thrilling detective story will appear in our next issue.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

The Old Man's Beard
BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Good morning," the old man greeted them. "Whence comest thou?"

Mars was full of surprises and Nancy and Nick, traveling along its crooked road, saw all of them. They had just said goodbye to the three-cornered boy when they met a queer old man with a long beard. His beard was so long that he had to wind it round a wheel like a garden hose, so he could carry it. Nancy couldn't help thinking of the little girl in the poem whose neck grew so long that she had to carry her head in a wheelbarrow.

"Good morning," the old man greeted them. "Whence comest thou?"

"From the earth," answered Nick, returning his greeting, altho he couldn't understand why the man should say "good morning" instead of "good yesterday" or "good day."

"We are hunting for the Goose's broom which is lost. Have you seen it?" asked Nancy.

"That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel."

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION
Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

Health Revival Is Extended Until Weds., 22nd, Parlor B., Lima House

Dr. Frederick Blankner, the distinguished Chicago Specialist is compelled to extend his visit one week longer until Wednesday, November, 22nd, in order to accommodate many who are desirous of obtaining his services in the successful treatment of chronic complicated diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, heart, lungs and nerves, as well as subsidiary diseases.

Blankner, such as rheumatism, nasal catarrh, eczema, gonorrhea, running sores and general breakdown of the entire system. Dr. Blankner gave the very best references from many of our best citizens in the state as to his honesty and qualifications as a master of his line of work. Every sick person is desirous of service and it is only when you receive intelligent service that you obtain results. If afflicted in any manner, why would you not be acting wisely to make a Little Journey to Lima House, ask the clerk to direct you to Parlor B, where you meet Dr. Blankner face to face in a real conscientious, honest, sincere right from the shoulder heart to heart talk.

Thousands of people are suffering in Allen County as the result of decayed and ulcerated teeth that would gladly have them extracted if they were sure that they could have it done without pain and in the most approved skillful manner. You now have the opportunity to make the Journey to Parlor B, where you can sit down in an easy go as you please rocking chair, while Dr. Blankner will sit down by your side and extract one diseased tooth after the other so easily, gracefully, skillfully and painlessly that you will simply have to smile and say "God Bless the Doctor."

No chloroform, ether, gas, somniferous, eucairn or novocain used. No bad results. No danger of taking cold. For reference go and see, telephone or write these people: Mr. Alois Herbst, Harrison St., Wapakoneta, who had twenty-two teeth extracted without pain and he will tell you that the work can't be excelled, anywhere in the State of Ohio. Mr. Chas. Shroyer, Maplewood, R. R. 2, had nineteen teeth extracted and was indeed happy and likewise will tell you that Dr. Blankner is a master. Mr. Geo. W. Smith, East Liberty, R. R. No. 2, had twenty-five teeth extracted and said "God Bless the Doctor!" You bet he did. Mrs. Floyd Cisco, Spencerville, will tell you that Dr. Blankner does just as he claims to do.

Mrs. A. E. Mowery, No. 922 McDonald St., Lima, made the journey to Parlor B. She sat down in the easy go as you please rocking chair, while Dr. Blankner sat down by her side and extracted twenty-three very badly diseased and ulcerated teeth. Go and see this lady and you will find one of the best pleased women in Lima that she made the journey. To the wise no more need be said. Office hours, 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. Sunday, 9 to 12 m. Phone service. Doctor's wife in attendance.

There was little chance that you would ever have fortune or title. Lord Winton had two sons; one of them married an American; the other remained unmarried. There were three lives between you and this title and its immense estates in England. . . . What chance was there, monsieur, that these persons should be removed and these benefits descend to you?"

He paused.

"But they were removed, monsieur, and the benefits have descended. The war appeared. Both sons of Lord Winton lost their lives in it; Lord Winton is himself murdered; and you come, monsieur, from a shattered kingdom of southeastern Europe to be a peer of England with an immense estate. Even the American granddaughter of Lord Winton. That was, of course, this extraordinary English law of entail. Would you call this chance, monsieur?"

Lord Valleys found no difficulty at all with the inquiry. He replied directly.

"Monsieur," he said, "it was all clearly chance except the murder of Lord Winton. That was, of course, design."

Another installment in this thrilling detective story will appear in our next issue.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

The Old Man's Beard
BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Good morning," the old man greeted them. "Whence comest thou?"

"From the earth," answered Nick, returning his greeting, altho he couldn't understand why the man should say "good morning" instead of "good yesterday" or "good day."

"We are hunting for the Goose's broom which is lost. Have you seen it?" asked Nancy.

CANCELLATION OF DEBTS OPPOSED

Forbes Gives Opinion on Foreign Obligations to U. S.

COMPROMISE SUGGESTED

Nations Unable to Pay on Terms Prescribed, He Says

(BY B. C. FORBES)
NEW YORK.—(Special).—Should foreign debts be cancelled?

No. Are foreign nations in a position to pay these debts on the terms laid down by the law recently passed by Congress?

No.

What then?

Few of us like a one-man show. Whenever I take myself to be open to making a talk, I always urge that I should talk only half the allotted time and then allow any one and every one to fire questions at me. This procedure was followed when I addressed the largest advertising club in the world, in Chicago, and I have just received a copy of "Chicago Commerce," a weekly published by the Chicago Association of Commerce which gives verbatim my reply to a question I was asked in almost every city where I spoke. Indeed, this same question was asked so frequently that it became very clear that there is widespread and keen interest in the subject.

This being so, it may not be out of place to reprint the following from the official publication of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

"The following question was asked by Dwight Connor:

"Mr. Forbes has been discussing things at home which have been very interesting. I would like to jump across the ocean and ask him a question. Much has been said, there is much still to be said, concerning the money that various countries abroad owe this country. Shall we cancel those debts, Mr. Forbes?"

To this Mr. Forbes replied:

"In making talks to business men, I try as far as possible to avoid any topic that savors of the political. But since you ask me, I am very willing to give you my opinion. "When any fellow owes us money, the first thing we want to find out is, can he pay? If we think he can pay, we are going to apply the screws and see that he does pay. All right.

"Can the European countries pay us?"

"Let us immediately eliminate from the picture, Jauries Bull, England has assured us that she can and will pay, so brush England aside. She is going to pay."

"My own opinion is that not one of the other countries is in a position to fulfill the conditions prescribed in the present law covering our foreign debts.

"There is not in the whole continental Europe one-tenth enough gold to pay their debts to us. Therefore, they cannot pay in gold, obviously. They might be able to liquidate a goodly part of their debts if we said to them, 'We know that the only way you can pay us at all is to ship us goods for our use, but what have we just said to them? What have we just done? We have just built up the highest Chinese wall of a tariff this country has ever had.

"Briefly, I do not think the debts ought to be cancelled. "I know they cannot be paid—they cannot be paid in the present law on the subject. But as in many things of life, I think there is a middle ground.

"I think America could very properly say to those debtors: "You owe us money. You are not paying us back. You owe it to your own honor to do everything you can to pay us back. Instead of doing everything you can to pay us back, you are lying about it and acting like a drunken sailor. You are spending millions and millions upon standing armies; your governments are running riot in their expenditures; you are not imposing sufficient taxation to make your budgets balance; you are not doing your best to get into a position to pay us what you owe us. We want you to do your utmost to get into a position to pay us.

"If you do go about correcting those evils, getting down to brass tacks, disbanding your standing armies, dropping all your petty jealousies, and doing everything you can to get your house in order, then, having done that, you will find us reasonable in discussing with you some feasible, practical compromise for liquidating as much as possible of what you owe us.

"But so long as you choose to go on as you have been doing, pumping out paper currency by the billion, and doing other uneconomic things, not a single dollar is going to be cancelled.

"It is your move next."

I would like to let readers of this column know that I do not set myself up as a Sir Oracle on this highly complex subject. But I rather think a good many of you have formed conclusions pretty much along the lines—common sense lines, I hope—here suggested.

I would not be astonished if by and by it were deemed necessary by Congress to send American experts to check very carefully the status of our debtors and then draw up settlement terms suitable and feasible for each case try.

CLUBWOMEN WAR ON SPANKING

Declare Parents Have no Right to Punish Children

ANSWER TO COURT DECREE

Law Shall Come From Statute Books, They Say

(BY JOHN O'DONNELL)
NEW YORK.—Have parents an inherent right to punish their children?

"They have," decides Justice Salmon of the Court of Special Sessions.

"They haven't," retorts the Alliance of Women's Clubs of Brooklyn. "And if Justice Salmon's decision gives parents a legal right to inflict corporal punishment, we women are going to see that such a medieval law is wiped from the statute books."

Thus the hands that rock the Brooklyn cradle, have decided the rod must be spared.

If necessary, the 48 associated women's clubs with their 10,000 members who have already taken official action on Justice Salmon's decision are ready to carry the matter to the State Federation of Women's Clubs and make corporal punishment a campaign issue.

WHY "CANING" MUST GO
These are the reasons why corporal punishment must go, according to Mrs. R. C. Talbot Perkins, president of the Alliance of Women's Clubs of Brooklyn:

ONE: Because corporal punishment is brutal, a relic of the dark ages, entirely out of harmony with humanitarian principles.

TWO: Because it makes children worse, not better.

THREE: Because it injures a child morally by developing deceit. Fear of whippings will destroy frankness and lead children to lie.

FOUR: Because beating involves

Thousands Of Women Are Now Taking This Newer Form Of Iron

Worn-out Housewife Tells How She Quickly Regained Her Health and Strength.

"Only a short time ago I was so tired, nervous and worn-out from the drain on my nerves and strength of housework and child-rearing that I thought I could not keep up my duties. A short time ago I was so tired, nervous and worn-out from the drain on my nerves and strength of housework and child-rearing that I thought I could not keep up my duties."

A short time ago I was so tired, nervous and worn-out from the drain on my nerves and strength of housework and child-rearing that I thought I could not keep up my duties. A short time ago I was so tired, nervous and worn-out from the drain on my nerves and strength of housework and child-rearing that I thought I could not keep up my duties."

The above is a typical hypothesis in a case, says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Out-Door Dept.) New York, and the Westchester County Hospital. You cannot be well and strong and full of vigor, force and power unless your blood is rich in iron. It is your red blood that enables you to resist and overcome disease and that nourishes every organ in your body. Without iron your blood becomes thin, pale and watery. Your blood cannot nourish your vital organs and as a result you may have pains in your heart or kidneys, indigestion, headaches, and feel all "run-down" and tired out.

When your blood stimulates medicines or narcotic drugs, but directly enrich your blood with the newer form of iron sold by all druggists under the name of Nuxated Iron, which is like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, and is in a form easily assimilated into your blood.

Get a bottle of Nuxated Iron today. Take it for two weeks and if you have not, like thousands of others, obtained most surprising health, strength and energy, the manufacturers will promptly refund your money. The following local druggists will sell you Nuxated Iron with this "satisfaction or money back" guarantee.

BUZZING IN EARS DISAPPEARS

Lima Lady Says Plant Juice Has Greatly Relieved Her Catarrhal Trouble

LIKE A DIFFERENT WOMAN

"I suffered from such bad catarrh in my head that I had a buzzing sound in my ears nearly all the time, but your Plant Juice has worked wonders for me and the catarrh is so much relieved that the buzzing sound has left my ears."

MRS. SADIE GRAHAM

This remarkable testimonial was given to The Plant Juice Man recently by Mrs. Sadie Graham, a popular and well known lady of this city, living at 285 1/2 North Central avenue. Continuing, she said: "I had suffered from catarrh in my head and throat for years. It made my breath so foul I did not sit near anybody. I also suffered from a terrible nervous condition so that I could not sleep right and often through the day I had such dizzy spells that I could hardly sit or stand up. I couldn't eat right and simply had pains all through my body. "I read about your Plant Juice and finally I started taking it and I will say that it worked wonders for me. That buzzing sound has left my ears and the catarrh is improved so much that my throat does not fill up anymore. I can now eat and sleep fine; the pains have left my body and, to tell the truth, I feel like a different woman. I surely want to recommend your Plant Juice to the public for it is a wonderful medicine."

Said The Plant Juice Man: "Catarrh is a terrible thing. It should not be considered lightly. In the beginning, it may be a simple condition but it grows worse rapidly until there is a constant roaring, ringing or buzzing in the ears and head; mucous continually fills up the air passages of the nose and throat; there are awful headaches, eyes grow weak and, eventually, the catarrh may spread throughout the system, affecting the stomach, liver and kidneys. My Plant Juice has given blessed relief in many cases of this trouble."

The Plant Juice Man is at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Plant Juice is sold also in Lima at Hunter's drug store at Main and Wayne streets and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office.

OUR BIG REASON

Just a brief explanation will make clear the reason for this stupendous clearance of high grade and quality pianos and player pianos—read the following which is of much importance to you.

The past year during a period of depression in the financial world, the piano industries in order to secure ready money, with stocks of pianos and player pianos in creasing in their factories and warehouses, in order to secure immediate financial relief were forced to sacrifice their stocks of pianos and player pianos.

The Maus Piano Company with ready cash and looking for special bargains for their patrons, have purchased from several of these factories and dealers a large number of instruments that they will close at a very low and attractive price.

You Save All the Rent and More Buying Here

With our warerooms filled with our new stock for fall and winter business to capacity, we will make an especial drive on all pianos that have been out on rental and returned during the sale. We do not want to stock these returned rented pianos—lack of room makes it impossible to hold them and sell them in the regular course of business, they must be disposed of in a few days time—and will be—for we make such price reductions as will immediately bring thousands here from piano-less homes from far and near.

RECESS FOR POLITICS

IT is a hopeful sign of the time that at least one or two of the Republican members of the state senate have agreed to adjourn politics when the general assembly goes into action in January, after the inauguration of Vic Donahey as governor, and give the new chief executive the aid he will need if the forthcoming administration is to accomplish something for all the people.

There is not one iota of doubt about the necessity of such a thing being done if Donahey is to be able to carry out even part of the promises he made during the campaign. Repeatedly he told the people in his speeches that he must be given a "friendly" legislature if they expected him to deliver the goods.

The voters do not appear to have grasped the idea just as Vic saw it. They elected him, but gave him a Republican legislature. Political lines make no difference if men are imbued with the spirit of helpfulness, one to the other. But, unhappily, under our plan of politics, the opposition party usually stands in the position of carping critics instead of lifters and aiders. The party that is in like to have the aid of those who are out. But the outsiders are too busy knocking those who are in.

Once in office, representatives of a party usually begin building a machine of some sort that is intended to insure their return in another election. Those who have been kicked away from the pile counter begin building to offset official records; to record every fault, every mistake—anything and everything that can be used to their own advantage when another election comes along.

Hence, the statement made that Senator John F. Burke, Republican, of Lorain, is willing to lead a movement to give aid to Donahey in a constructive program for Ohio is the proper sort of thing. If Burke can only succeed in getting others of his own political faith in the senate to stand by him in his determination, this state will for once at least witness harmonious executive and legislative action.

The people of Ohio, many of them regardless of party affiliation, demonstrated their faith in the integrity of Donahey. He should have the support of the legislative body, in the interest of the people who elected all of them to office.

FORD BOOM FOR PRESIDENCY

CLUBS and organizations are being formed in various cities for the purpose of booming Henry Ford for the presidency. Such a body now exists in New York City.

Ford, it has been believed for a long time, has had his eye on the job now held by Warren G. Harding. All indications point in that direction, yet the automobile magnate and one of the richest if not the richest man in the world, has not made a definite statement. It is problematic on what ticket he would make the race if he were to get into the fray.

The fact that Ford maintains one of the finest press agencies in the country which never overlooks a bet to get him into the newspapers together with the publication of his picture in his advertisements for automobiles and tractors indicate that there is something back of this campaign besides an ad for his products.

We admire Henry Ford very much as a manufacturer of flivvers. He has proved himself a genius in that line, building up one of the greatest organizations the country has ever known. In the manufacturing line he is a wizard. He has done a great service to humanity by turning out his cheap car. But thru it all the Ford family has continued to pile up wealth.

We cannot get enthusiastic about his boom for the presidency. We do not think the people will take it seriously. They should not. Henry Ford can be of greater service to his country up in Detroit turning out flivvers by the million than he could in the White House.

MONEY

MONEY in circulation thruout the country Nov. 1, was $4,570,280,827—or $41.44 for each man, woman and child.

The money supply influences prices, but only partly. For instance, money in circulation now is over a billion dollars less than a year ago, but prices of commodities are higher.

Cost of living, the country over, now averages about 56 per cent higher than before the war, tho the amount of money in circulation for each of us is only 20 per cent higher.

LETTERS

THERE'S a postoffice now for each 58 square miles of the United States. Or roughly, a postoffice for each strip of land 10 miles long and nearly six miles wide.

That's a big strip of land. With only one postoffice on it, reminds you of frontier days. Still, most of us are very close to a postoffice. It emphasizes how we Americans swarm in towns and cities, also how much land there is in the open country for each of us if we cared to live there.

ACUTE INDIGESTION

Now and then I remark casually that there is no such thing as a "cold" in the head or "taking cold." This remark invariably brings numerous letters from folks who imagine they have "colds" and who demand to know what I call it if it isn't a cold. Same way when I assert that there is no such disease as "rheumatism." The victims of that delusion challenge me to tell them what ails them if it isn't rheumatism. If I were to observe here that there is no such condition as acute indigestion the same reaction would be inevitable and as a matter of fact here is the opening paragraph of one such letter:

"In a recent issue you said in a reply to one of your correspondents that so called indigestion is a camouflage. What then would you call it when people drop dead soon after eating, as so many do. A friend of mine dropped dead shortly after eating heavy peach dumplings, another ate a pound of Himberger, took a nap and never woke up. If this was not acute indigestion what would you call it?"

How can I or any other person not conversant with the circumstances guess what may have caused death in the instances cited by this correspondent? It seems to be a favorite fancy of the layman that a doctor can divine such things.

"Acute indigestion" is all very well to give out for publication in cases of sudden fatal illness. Some explanation must be given, and a good practical doctor hates to announce that it is none of the public's business, you know. So "acute indigestion" smooths the matter over. Once in a while a doctor gets so very practical that he overdoes this "indigestion" business, forgets himself and writes something of the kind in the death certificate. But back comes the certificate from the health department, with a gentle hint to the doctor that there is nothing doing and will kindly indicate the probable cause of death.

I am sympathetically opposed to practice of suggesting symptoms or diseases to the poor deluded lay, and therefore, I shall not attempt to list here the numerous conditions which afford the practical doctor an opportunity to spring the "indigestion" joke. I'll say it is a long list and includes more things than most people ever imagined one could have in his trunk. Without abating one jot or tittle from my sympathetic position I may add that whoever has a diagnosis of "indigestion" wished on him in this life had better look about for a physician who is a little more skilful if not quite so practical.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Cod Liver Oil

Is cod liver oil a good thing to drink if one wishes to build up and fatten? —Mrs. N.

Answer—This pure cod liver oil, and not an extract or other preparation, taken in doses of a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful, twice daily, one or two hours after food, seems to help many frail persons to gain weight and energy. There are mixtures of equal parts of cod liver oil and the syrupy extract of malt which are not bad to take, if the plain oil is unpalatable.

Bees Buzzing Around Again

I have some "bees" that are used to make wine. Can you tell me what they are and where they come from? Are they injurious to health? Will the wine made from them give people the sugar diabetes? —Mrs. C. L. P.

Answer—So called "bees," Italian, Japanese, Belgian, Brazilian (and any fanciful or mysterious title you wish) are wild or impure yeasts. There was a warning issued by the United States government against the use of these wild forms of yeast, when fermentation is necessary. The pure yeast, generally sold for making bread is safer and better. Wine does predispose to diabetes. There is but one kind of diabetes, so we need not specify sugar diabetes. (Copyright, 1922)

MEMORY

I too, once lived in Arcady,
A little while, a little while,
Where all the ways are glad and free
And all the heavens smile;
I walked the paths of wonderland
I, with my sweetheart, hand in hand;
Ah yes, I know
'Twas long ago
We walked that flowery aisle,
But—I too, lived in Arcady,
A little while, a little while.
I have been gone from Arcady
A long, long time, a weary time,
But all its ways are fair to me
As in my golden prime;
And all the lovers strolling by
Re-light the glimmer in my eye.

For I knew well
Love's tender spell
And all its magic smile—
I, too, have been in Arcady
A little while, a little while!
I lost my love in Arcady.
Oh I was blind, so young and
But since I know how sweet
The bliss that lovers find
My heart leaps at each word
That ever I have overheard;
(My eye, I fear
May hold a tear
That mingles with my am
But that is natural, you see,
For one who lived in Arcad
A little while,
A little while!

UNITED STATES RUSHES AID

Harding Sends Supplies for Victims of Disaster

SANTIAGO, Chile — (Associated Press) — Strong earth shocks were felt at 12:25 o'clock this morning in the Copiapo and Le Serena districts, where great loss of life was suffered in Saturday's quake, according to National Telegraph dispatches.

The inhabitants of Santiago were much alarmed early this morning when a slight earth shock was felt here, the motion apparently being vertical. The tremor began at 1:42 o'clock.

The director of a private meteorological institute had forecast an earth movement at 2 o'clock, due to the conjunction of the moon and Saturn.

RELIEF PARTY ARRIVES

Dispatches from Copiapo report the arrival there of a relief party bringing a large stock of food and medicines. The medical officers of the party found a number of the injured lying in the open air in the ruins, as the hospital had been completely ruined. Other victims were lying in the streets, mostly dead. The survivors were huddled in a motion picture theatre, lacking proper ventilating facilities.

These conditions, however, are stated to be surpassed by those in Yallendar, where bodies still remain beneath the ruins, their decomposition constituting a serious menace to the public health. The inhabitants, without food, are lying in a continual state of terror, sleeping on the nearby hills. Breaking of the pipes has left the town without water.

U. S. SENDS AID

The news that President Harding is sending warships to Huasco with supplies was received with expressions of gratitude on all sides. While doubtless vessels cannot arrive for another week, it is considered certain that the aid will be timely. The railroad connections to the north, the quickest means of communication with the district, even in normal times, is by ship, and it is believed some weeks will elapse before it is possible to deliver all the supplies necessary to allay distress.

Much appreciation was expressed for the offer of assistance from the American Red Cross but so far as known no decision has been taken. Announcement yesterday that it had been accepted apparently was due to misconstruction of President Alessandri's message of thanks to President Harding. It is understood the authorities, before accepting, are endeavoring to ascertain more definitely the extent of the damage and the number of persons in need of assistance.

ACTION ON SMITH PROTEST
AWAITS WORD FROM COURT

New developments were lacking in the contest for coroner since the filing of a protest by Dr. Frank Smith Wednesday.

Smith won the initial round in the battle when his attorneys secured an order compelling the board of elections to show cause why a new drawing for the office should not be held.

Arguments in the matter will be heard before the court of appeals when the court finds time to listen. In the meantime Dr. A. C. Adams will be drawing a week ago, is unconvinced with the battle.

"I'm letting matters take their course," he said. "If he gets another chance—I believe I'm lucky enough to win again."

Fees collected annually form the only emolument received by the coroner. The fees total about $200 a year.

ACIDS IN STOMACH
CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain
How To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Instead get from any drug store a few drops of Bismuth Magnesia and take water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismuth Magnesia (in milk or tablet form) never hurts or expels the harmless to the stomach, important to take and is the most efficient remedy. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Adv.

LAW'S VICTORY AT

LABOR MAKES STRONG FIGHT

Vote Indicates Defeat of Lloyd
George's Plans

LONDON — (United Press) — Former Premier Lloyd George has been defeated in his effort to win a balance of power in the next house of commons on the face of incomplete returns from yesterday's election received this afternoon.

A count announced at 1 o'clock p. m. showed the Conservative candidates of Premier Bonar Law, with a clear majority over all other parties and the Conservatives were gaining at that time, having won nine additional seats since the noon results were posted.

Lloyd George's candidates were a bad fourth in the running, but this did not affect the results from his point of view so much as the fact that Bonar Law appeared likely to secure a working majority and hence Lloyd George's handful in the house would not be sufficient to overthrow the government.

The count at 1 p. m. stood:
Conservatives 170.
Labor 69.
Asquith Liberals 28.
Lloyd Georgians 22.
Independents 8.
Total 287.

TWO WOMEN WIN

The new house will be composed of 615 members so there remains room for considerable change in one direction or another.

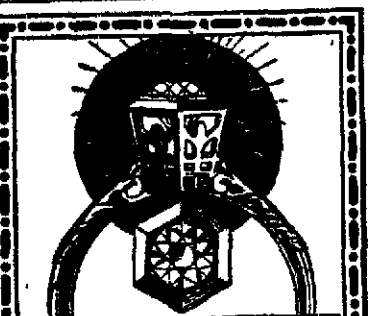

Labor's strong fight, making it probable that the party will be the main opposition group in the next house, has been a feature of the election. Arthur Henderson, however, was defeated.

Lloyd George, Asquith, Bonar Law and Clynes, leaders of the four parties, were all elected, the first named being unopposed.

Two women, Lady Astor and Mrs. Wintreham, members of the last parliament, were re-elected but most of the 31 others who stood for election fared badly.

Margaret Bondfield and Lady Cooper were two prominent women candidates who met defeat.

GOVERNOR-ELECT LEAVES

Escapes Visitors by Taking Rabbit Hunting Trip

NEW PHILADELPHIA. (United Press)—The pilgrimage of the job hunters to the home of Vic Donahey, governor-elect, is on. Every train brings new self-styled "possibilities" and hotels are crowded with men and women seeking appointments to state offices from the newly elected executive.

Donahey at his home on a hill overlooking the city, has been meeting them all—until today.

This morning, with his brother, he stole away "for a few days rest" and incidentally, to do a little hunting himself.

The governor-elect would not admit that the siege of hungry applicants for state positions had anything to do with his decision to spend a few days hunting rabbits. TO KEEP PROMISE

"I haven't decided upon a single appointment," he said. "There is plenty of time yet for that."

But there were two points about which the governor-elect was emphatic: That he will keep all his campaign promises, including the one to fire all members of the state public utilities commission and that he will have no "fuss and feathers" in his inauguration.

"Two years ago the state spent $5,000 for an amplifier on the state house steps," said Donahey. "There will be nothing of that sort at my inauguration."

Tuscarawas co turned out in a body Wednesday night for the home-coming and reception in honor of the county's first governor. A parade headed by city and county officials moved thru downtown streets and wound up at the Union Opera House. The Elks took part thru a special dispensation. Donahey is a past exalted ruler of that body.

WILL CALL SESSION

Four hands played. Donahey and his family were in an automobile with an escort of horsemen. R. E. Haverman, banker, offered congratulations on behalf of the county where four generations of Donaheys have lived since the grandfather of the new governor was born here in 1804. Donahey responded briefly. Miss Susie Alberson headed a committee of women assisting in the reception.

In his address the governor-elect said he will call a special session of the legislature, if it is humanly possible to recodify the state laws.

"The requisites of governor are common sense, common honesty and the courage of a grizzly bear," he said.

KAMERER AWARDED $153
VERDICT IN AUTO CASE

Verdict for $153.81 was awarded H. M. Kamerer, department manager at Feldman's store, from D. R. Anspaugh by a jury sitting in the case in common pleas court late Wednesday.

The case was the first tried before Judge E. R. Eastman, of Ottawa, who is holding court in Allen-co for three weeks. The dispute involved payment for repairs on a motor car.

ANNOUNCE TAXES

County Will Begin Collection December 1, Auditor Anticipates

Tax collection in Allen-co will begin about December 1, C. R. Phillips, county auditor, anticipates.

The approximate amount anticipated for the December collection has now been made up, because it was impossible to do so until after election when the fate of the 2 mill levy was determined.

The tax amounts are now being run off, Phillips said, and will be certified over to Harry E. Botkins, county treasurer as soon as completed.

Due to the defeat of the 2 mill levy the rate in Lima will now be an additional increase over the amount approved by the state tax commission.

Property owners will pay a rate of 25.80 mills on the dollar, amounting to $25.80 on the $1,000. Payment on the 3 mill levy for schools voted a year ago, will start this year.

Every indication predicts towards an enthusiastically and active gathering.

The meeting will open with the planting of 200 trees on the N. West-st road at 3:30 p. m. in honor of the Allen County Soldiers and Red Cross Nurses. The trees will be planted between the south and north entrances of the Lima State hospital and the spot will hereafter be known as "The Avenue of Remembrance."

Sixty officers of the Ohio Federation will participate in the program and Mrs. John E. McCue, mother of William Paul Gallagher, the first Allen County Soldier killed in the World War, will plant the first tree in commemoration of the county's heroes and heroines.

A 6 o'clock banquet at the Elks' Home will follow the exercises. The tables will be arranged in the ballroom, which will be resplendent in handsome appointments for the auspicious occasion. Huge baskets filled with fall blossoms will adorn the tables while tiny nosegays will mark each place.

Following the banquet musical numbers will be given by Mrs. Ralph Shrider, harpist and Mrs. Gayle C. Dupignon, violinist. The musicians will be seated on the stage in the ballroom, which will be artistically decorated with palms and baskets of chrysanthemums.

Susie Smart's Advice

Dear Miss Smart: Will you please help me out of my troubles as you have others. I have been a young man for some time. I have known him for over a year but he never seemed to pay attention to me. I have a certain girl he had been going with went to another city to work. Now he comes back and says he is going to marry her. He takes me to dances, shows me his car and buys me candy and flowers. This girl is coming back and every one says I can hold him by being independent with him and pretending as if I don't care. This girl has made several unkind remarks about me. But this man says not to pay any attention to her. She goes out to his house after him all the time. If it is going to cause so much trouble would you advise me to give up my close friendship? You understand I like him very much. He has never said he even likes me, but everyone says he is crazy about me. He is 25 and I am 21. Please tell me what to do?

"UNCERTAIN" JUST put your future in the hands of fate, my dear, and do not work. If you let things take their natural course I feel quite certain that a more satisfactory situation will result.

This young man seems deeply interested in you and it would be foolish for you to break your friendship unless you have positive proof that this man cares more for this other girl than yourself. Of course, had there been a definite engagement it would have been wrong for you to have accepted such marked attentions from this man in the absence of his fiancée. However, since you did not mention an engagement I presume that they have only been very close friends.

The fact that this girl has made several unkind remarks about you and that she has even been so bold as to "pursue" this man, suggests that she is not as prudent and discreet as she might be. When she returns home, however, be very polite and amiable toward her and do not give her an opportunity to attack you. Remember the well-mannered and cautious girl always wins.

Dear Miss Smart: Have you a recipe for peanut butter candy?

Boil together two cups of white sugar (brown if preferred) with three fourths of a cup of milk and a speck of salt. When it spins a thread, take it off of the fire and add one tablespoonful of peanut butter (a little more, if a very strong nutty flavor is desired). Beat this in well, then add one half teaspoonful of vanilla.

This recipe may be varied more or less. For instance, excellent fudge is made with water instead of milk. In that case stir the peanut butter into the fudge while holding it over a slow fire. Remove it from the stove and let it stand for 10 or 15 minutes. Then add vanilla and beat. This should be very creamy. The same recipe, taken off of the stove, before it has cooked quite long enough to be candy, makes an excellent filling and top for layer cake.

Marriage At A Crisis

By ZOE BECKLE

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Marriage with the Barrettts had reached the breaking point. Things were so bad that when JOHN BARRETT decided he could bear the domestic tedium no longer, he wrote his wife that he was going to leave her. He no longer loved her and now, he said, he was going to leave her. MYRA DEAN, a woman of the world.

GO ON WITH THE STORY
Anita-Barrett looked at her husband with bitter tears in her eyes. She was moved beyond mere anger. "You're going to ask Myra Dean the honor of taking you!" she managed. "Well—I hope she will do you the honor." And should she refuse you, then return to me! Oh! Anita's voice was a agony of repugnance and despair. She did not wait for Barrett to reply, but, brushing past him, ran from the room.

He turned to follow, hot words, protests, proposals, crowding to be uttered. The slam of a door stopped them. The room rang with the sound of that door closing. It seemed to be the close of a chapter—the most important chapter—of Barrett's life.

"All right!" he muttered savagely. "Let's go!" He wandered into the passage, his head seething with drastic plans. His hand absently took a hat from the hall table—not his own, his son's, a battered sport cap worn on many a motor trip he and his boy had taken together. It clung to his fingers as no he could not let it go. Then, realizing he was weakening, he flung it back and took his own hat and coat.

The garment brushed down a flaming red tam o' shanter of his daughter's. How like the color of her cheeks was she when home from a wild flight on the ice-bound lake!

He replaced the hat slowly. Symbolic, it seemed. He could not fling out of the house and all that was in it, without knocking something down—something belonging to his children.

"WHAT ARE YOU DOING AT THIS HOUR?" "Oh, damn!" he snapped old enough. They're mother. It's her they're pausing in the hallway a irresolute. "Oh! Can't back. You've made the b and you're going forwar Flung out of the line; he would not touch car—it was part of wh before a little colonial st in a pretty suburb. MEDICAL PROFESSION DIVIDES ON COUE'S AUTOSUGGESTION THEORY

Danger Seen by Expert in Idea Becoming Fad

OVERVALUATION FEARED

Seems Applicable Only to Some Nervous Cases

Physicians Alarmed at New Theory in Psychotherapy

MIRACLES GO UNCLAIMED

Invaluable for Maintaining Vigor of Person

BY DR. EUGENE LYMAN FISK, Medical Director, Life Extension Institute.

(BY FREDERICK PIERCE) Analytical Psychologist, Lecturer and Author.

NEW YORK. (Special)—Are we to scrap 90 per cent of scientific medical practice in favor of mind healing? The public and the medical profession must face this question because of the interest being shown in the auto-suggestion method of M. Coue, the apostle of the new cure-all fad in Europe who is soon to visit America.

NEW YORK. (Special)—The projected trip to America of M. Coue, apostle of auto-suggestion, has drawn upon him the criticism of eminent members of the medical profession.

Physicians call him a menace and issue a warning against him. The pity is the average doctor's mind is closed to any new thing in psychotherapy.

Those doctors who refuse to give Coue a hearing act as if they were holders of a patent that was being infringed. Yet they are daily writing dozens of prescriptions which they know cannot possibly have any specific curative effect. Are they using intelligent auto-suggestion, or the methods of the African medicine man?

The whole question of Coue gets down to the psychology of the human wish—physicians as a group do not want Coue's method to be true, and the human race hopes and prays that it is true.

GIVES RELIEF

Coue does not perform miracles and has not discovered a cure-all. His auto-suggestion simply gives, when successful, spontaneous relief of functional disorders, usually of the nervous type.

It is true that trained minds do not usually respond as well to his method as credulous or ignorant minds. It is my opinion that there have been more failures than successes. I am one of the few scientific men who, in company with an eminent London physician, investigated Coue's clinic at Nancy, and it is true that in running down rumors of miracles we found them untrue.

Coue's side of it is this: First, he makes no claim that he does the curing; and second, he claims a negative imagination is the cause of many functional disorders.

In this, as neurologists well know, he is right beyond question. In setting in motion in an arc of positive thinking Coue can do no harm. But he can do harm in ignorantly applying auto-suggestion to minds not properly prepared for it, and to cases not suited for it.

SUPPLEMENTS MEDICINE

Auto-suggestion is an invaluable force for maintaining vigor of mind and body; it can also splendidly supplement the use of medicine. It should not be used as the sole curative agent without accurate diagnosis by a physician, and should never be given without mental analysis.

And whether physicians accept it or not, there is available an inductive technique of suggestion superior to the Coue method.

Coue has set the world thinking. That is of enormous value. His is an elementary step in a field that should be continuously studied by science, and especially by the medical profession.

The danger is that auto-suggestion may appeal only as a fad. In that case quacks will reap a harvest and much harm will be done. It should be turned from a fad into a science.

ARMOUR CONFERS WITH PRESIDENT ON MERGER

WASHINGTON.—J. Ogden Armour, head of the Armour Packing Company, conferred at length today with President Harding regarding the proposed merger of Armour interests with Morris and Company at the White House.

Armour refused to discuss the nature of the conference with the president, saying he had presented to him the same information he had laid before Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. Wallace is expected to ask the federal trade commission for opinions as to whether the proposed merger will be legal under existing laws.

The opinion prevailed today that if it were shown that the merger in any way would restrain commerce, it would not have the approval of the federal government.

HERE ARE THE MEN WHO MAY RULE SENATE

THIRD PARTY TO BE FORMED

This is Prediction of Nation's Political Leaders

TO PUT UP TICKET IN 1924

Farm Bloc Is Expected to Play Big Part

(BY LAWRENCE MARTIN)

WASHINGTON.—(United Press)—A third party will be manufactured for 1924, whether there is public demand for it or not.

Politicians of both great parties predict this, declaring the next two years will see determined efforts to create a third party and that whether it will finally appear as a spontaneous expression of dissatisfaction with existing factions depends upon three things:

1.—Taxation and the cost of living.
2.—Industrial and economic policies of the government.
3.—How fast Europe gets back on its feet.

But whether public sentiment demands it or not, observers whose predictions seldom go wrong, see a third party presidential ticket in the field in 1924, drawing many votes. With the third party will be organized and mainly supported by people who are now Republicans or Democrats. The kind of third party the Republicans and Democratic leaders are concerned about, is one made up of Republican or Democratic voters or both—a third party that will ruin either one or both of the now dominant political groups.

REPUBLICAN FEARS

Republican leaders, for instance, fear more greatly the farm bloc which will sit in the 68th congress, as a third party nucleus than all the conferences of radicals, liberals and intellectuals that can be held. If the farm bloc develops into a third party, it will do so on its record in the next two years, whereas radicals will simply make a third party among themselves and try to win support for it on pledges and promises.

It is the difference between promise and performance and between the two, political observers point out the people are more likely to be drawn to the group that has made a record of actual achievement.

If taxes remain high and they levy on the farmer and the small business man, if industrial legislation displeasing to labor and economic laws unhelpful to the farmer are passed and if Europe does not come back, creating markets for American goods and prosperity for American workers, there is very likely to be a strong third party demonstration by rebels within the ranks of the two parties.

A third party, like any other, depends largely on its leadership for success and for that reason the sponsors of existing new party movements are trying hard to line up Senators Borah, La Follette, Johnson and other progressives, with their various political creeds. These senators are standing aloof. Not even La Follette wishes just yet to join any hand-made third party. Borah refuses to be trapped into jumping the party fence.

If You Suffer from Eczema, Read This

They All Say the Same.

"For a number of years I had ringworm on my face and running sores on my arm and could find nothing that would relieve me until I used Eczema ointment at Eiler's Drug Store. Eczema has cured both my arm and face."

—Laura Watkins, Rochester, Pa. "I have been using Eczema ointment for an ulcerous skin trouble that tormented and pained me so that I lost 30 pounds in three months. I had tried everything that I knew of but continued to get worse all the time until I began using Eczema ointment. It cured me in four days. It seems too good to be true. I will be glad to give any other patient using Eczema ointment a good testimonial."

If you are afflicted with any form of skin trouble, don't wait another day but go now and buy a jar of Eczema ointment. The greatest skin disease that is so clean and pure it will not even soil the linen when used on the body.

Wonderful for Sick Stomachs

Everyone who tries it willingly acknowledges that it does cure indigestion and certainly banishes dyspepsia and other stomach distress almost instantly.

Read this letter from Wm. Starkey, Rock Creek, Ohio:

"I was sick for several years, went to hospital after getting no relief from doctors' remedies. I was unable to work, and confined to the house. I was advised to try Doctor Orlin's Stomach Remedy. I had no faith in anything more, but I tried it and to my happy surprise it did me good. I am now perfectly well and for six months have been working every day in the blacksmith shop, eating everything I want and in perfect health."

It is with pleasure that I recommend Dr. Orlin's Stomach Remedy. INCREASE IN IMPORTS IS SEEN BY MELLON

WASHINGTON.—Increasing imports under the new tariff law are to be expected in the view of Secretary Mellon, as expressed at the treasury.

Mr. Mellon believes that the volume of imports into the country is governed mainly by the condition of business within the country, which he is said to feel is steadily on the upward trend.

On a great majority of articles of import, Mr. Mellon is said to see no appreciable effect by the new duties upon the volume of incoming commodities. On commodities in general use, the treasury officials declared, the increased duties are so diffused as to have little practical effect in the reduction of importations.

HOFMANN'S AGAIN IN COURT

Divorced, Remarried, Again Seek Divorce Decree

Walter J. Hofmann, manager of the dancing pavilion at McCullough's Lake, told of marital differences with Ruth C. Hofmann, in a divorce action on trial in common pleas court, Thursday.

Hofmann related the early troubles with his wife which led to their being divorced. Mrs. Hofmann resumed her former name and went to Cincinnati to study music.

A reconciliation and re-marriage was arranged. The two then went to reside in a house in Ewing-av.

Hofmann testified that quarrels between his wife and himself were frequent, due to the character of his employment.

The clashes became more intense after she obtained work in a downtown movie house and came home late at night.

Sometimes she came in a machine, Hofmann said. He told, Fred C. Becker he objected to this practice, because it set the neighbors talking.

The two separated in February, 1921, testimony showed. Hofmann continued to live alone in his house. He told of alleged visits made by his wife, in his absence, and of the gradual disappearance of the furnishings.

A witness who accompanied Hofmann to the house during this time to obtain a drink of wine, also testified to the barren interior.

The Hofmanns have one daughter.

Baby Ruth, 16 months old. Hofmann asserted efforts were made to prevent his seeing the child.

Mrs. Hofmann, who has filed a cross complaint, alleging misconduct, neglect and cruelty, will take the stand Thursday afternoon. She recently obtained an order from the court restraining Hofmann from molesting her.

lemonade

Try drinking lemonade if you want to get rid of your cold in a hurry. It is harmless, and how you will love this dis-fashonable drink. Just add a tablespoon of plain, ordinary luscious to a quart of lemonade and drink a glassful every hour in five or six hours. Do this today—and tomorrow your cold will be gone.

The success of the large-lemonade is due to the fact that it gives the cold germs clear out of the system. Thus bringing quick, lasting relief.

Contains no quinine, aspirin or other harmful drugs. Can be taken with perfect safety by children as well as adults.

You can get powdered large-lemonade at the cost in small and it seldom fails to break the worst cold—Adv.

TRICK PLAYS OR STRAIGHT FOOTBALL-WHICH WILL WIN

(BY MERRICK M. HILL.)
Will straight football smash its way to victory or will trick plays produce the winning touchdowns on "Turkey Day?"
This question will not be answered until the final whistle blows in the Central-South Thanksgiving Day game.
It is certain that each team will attempt to play a different style game.

South will attempt to buck its way down the field with a small assortment of plays, which have been used almost the entire season.
Central will open its bag of trick plays and will loose a varied set of plays from "fake" formations.
Until Wednesday, neither coach would express himself as to the brand of football which his proteges would carry onto College field for the year's banner fracas, but with the battle exactly two weeks away each was sufficiently sure of his strategy to announce his plan of attack.

Coach Burdette said that he was not giving the Blue and Gold squad any new plays and that practice at South consisted entirely of perfecting old plays with just enough scrimmage to keep the huskies in tip-top form.
Central, which has used trick plays with considerable success all season, is busy adding to its repertoire and expects to uncork some new mystifying formations.

An example of the different styles of play is shown in the off-tackle buck which has been used by both Central and South in practically all their games.
South passes the ball to the quarterback, who in turn passes to the halfback who is to carry the ball. The linemen are expected to make a hole for the runner and should the opposition fail to open up, the play is stopped.

Central, on the other hand, fakes the play by appearing to give the ball to one of the half backs, who starts around end. The quarter then runs back a few feet and gives the ball to the second half, who starts to the hole which has been made by drawing the tackle to the other end of the line.
Should the line fail to make a hole, the half has an opportunity to slip around end.
The same idea is carried out with end runs. The South quarter passing the ball to the back who shoots around the end, depending on his line and backfield men to clear his pathway.

Central starts the majority of end runs with a double shift play which has usually drawn the opposing line away from the point of attack.
In aerial warfare, the comparison is the same.
Coach Burdette has drilled his proteges in the straight passing game. South depends on only one line to hold and upon the ends to get down after the ball.

Central, again, complicates the passing game to a test during the season trial, although the Red and Gold greater distance when the play is a play.
The question to be Thanksgiving day winners will be the team that wears away the Central's trick Or, will Central's trick smart the South foe?

WILLARD APPEARS IN RING AFTER LONG ABSENCE

LOS ANGELES — Jess Willard made his first public ring appearance last night since the day three years ago when Jack Dempsey wrested his heavy weight boxing title from him. In the opinion of sport writers, the big Kansan failed to show championship form.
The former champion boxed two exhibition bouts of two rounds each with Tom Kennedy and Joe Bonds, Los Angeles heavyweights, as the feature of a boxing program given at the Hollywood American Legion stadium for the benefit of the Assistance League for Ex-Servicemen.
W. G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury and Mrs. McAdoo, daughter of former President Wilson, were among a large number of socially prominent persons who attended.
Willard received a rousing reception. His two opponents, although large men, looked small beside him. Kennedy made the better showing, swinging four or five hard rights to the jaw, but Willard merely smiled and retaliated mildly.
Willard was quick on his feet and his rapid sparring, as one writer expressed it, gave one the idea he was not far from being in fair fighting trim.
SEERS BOUT WITH DEMPSEY
TOPEKA, Kansas — Ray Archer, manager for Jess Willard, announced here last night he would go to Kansas City Friday to interview Jack Dempsey in regard to a championship bout next June between Dempsey and Willard.
"Jess Willard is the most logical opponent for Dempsey," said Archer, who has acted as Willard's manager since Willard entered the boxing ring

Walker Has Many Rivals For Welterweight Title

MICKY WALKER IN CIVILIAN AND FIGHTING TOGS.
How long will Micky Walker hold the welterweight title?
Some of the boxing experts are inclined to the belief that Micky's tenure will be a short one.
There are a half dozen welterweights entitled to a match with Walker and every one of them is a dangerous contender.
George Ward and Jack Malone, who hold decisions over Walker, are more than anxious for a shot at the new champion. Johnny Karr, who has a verdict over Malone, is equally anxious. Then there is Dave Shadle, the brilliant Californian.

WILL UPLIFT THE STAGE
Jack Bulger, Micky's manager, has temporarily called a halt to the many challenges by announcing to the world that Walker would shortly go on the stage. It is said bookings covering a period of three months have already been closed.
Walker, it is understood, isn't very keen for the stage stuff, but his manager opines otherwise and, of course, that settles it.
Walker is the twelfth fighter to hold the welter title. Walker, by the way, is the youngest man that ever won the title in this country. Jack Britton was the oldest boxer to win and defend the honors of the division.

BRITTON BEAT KID LEWIS
Britton won the championship from "Kid" Lewis at New Orleans, April 24, 1916. Jack held the title a little more than a year, Lewis winning it back when he received the decision over Britton at Dayton, O., June 25, 1917.
Lewis held the honors for two years. During that time he met Britton in a number of no-decision bouts, the critics usually disagreeing as to the winner.
Britton then sprang a pugilistic surprise by knocking out Lewis in nine rounds at Canton, O., March 17, 1919. Britton has held the title since, finally surrendering it to Micky Walker on points.
WALKER IS ONLY TWENTY
Walker is 20 years old. He has been fighting only three years. His victory over Britton came as a great surprise because only a few months ago Jack had won all the way from clever Benny Leonard, until the lightweight champ committed a foul terminating the bout.
The new champion lives in Elizabeth, N. J., and is proud of it. The home folks are equally proud of Micky. He lives with his parents and is unmarried.
Walker's ambition after leaving school was to become an architect. He served as an apprentice in an architect's office for some time, but finally passed it all up for a ring career. His specialty now is designing new punches instead of buildings.

Tex Rickard Having Hard Time In Promoting Good Battles

(BY HENRY L. FARRELL)
NEW YORK — Tex Rickard used to have no trouble in getting boxers to work for him. All he had to do was dangle large sacks of coin beneath their noses.
Madison Square Garden had such a corner on all the first class bouts a year ago that the little promoters yelped about the want of trade. In a year it all changed and Rickard recently got a call down from the commission for not staging first class bouts.
"Money, threats, pleas and nothing else will get them now," Rickard said today. "The only thing they're looking for now is set-ups—smaller purses and sure thing opponents."
"After much experience, I have come to the conclusion that European boxers were afraid to come over for any money. I made Carpenter a standing offer of $150,000 to come over and meet Tommy Gibbons, but he passed it up and was knocked out by Sikl for $16,000.
"Then I offered Sikl $75,000 to come over and meet Kid Norfolk or any other American he wanted. He got himself in bad and now he can't earn a cent for nine months.
"For a long time I tried to get Jimmie Wolfe to come over and defend his title with Johnny Buff. When Buff lost I made him what I thought later was a foolish offer to fight Pancho Villa and he turned it down.
"For four fights in England Joe Beckett couldn't get what I offered him for one bout here with Tommy Gibbons and additional money for other bouts if he made a good showing, but he didn't even answer me."
Rickard claims that the American boxers are almost as bad in trying to evade taking any kind of a chance.
"I have been trying for over a month to get some one to meet Tommy Gibbons, and I can't get a rise out of any of them. Gibbons is one of the best attractions in the country but no one will fight him. I tried to get Harry Gieb and Gene Tunney to sign for him, but they refused."

Another difficulty encountered in getting championship bouts is brought about by the tendency of the title holders to put their crowns on ice and work in heavier classes.
Joe Lynch, bantam champion, wants to fight featherweights, the light weights want to fight welter and the welter want to work among the middleweights—anything to play safe.
Pancho Villa, the American flyweight champion, gives an example of this Thursday night in the Garden. There are several flyweights who have been after him for a chance at the title, but he is going to meet Abe Goldstein at 116 pounds and if he does lose he still retains his title.

Within the last few weeks two football officials have reversed the rulings made on the field after the game was over and the result regarded as final.
Perhaps the most unusual reversal was that affecting the game between Columbia and New York University. When the game was over the crowd left the field feeling that New York University won the game, 7 to 6.
The students of New York University started celebrating immediately after the game and kept it up until Monday. Those students who wagered on the game and collected their winnings, proceeded to immediately spend them. Defeating Columbia was quite a trick for New York U. and the students made the most of it.
Then comes forth the referee who said that he had made a mistake in allowing the New York touchdown, that it should have been scored a safety, and the result of the game was really 6 to 2 in favor of Columbia instead of 7 to 6 in favor of New York.
In another game a college team left the field believing that it had scored a touchdown. Later, said college was informed by the official that he had erred and the seven points credited were illegal.
These reversals on the part of football officials are a trifle unusual. It raises the question as to how far the jurisdiction of the football officials should extend.
In baseball when an official errs on a question of rule it is a very easy matter to correct the mistake. The game is thrown out and ordered played over. This, of course, is impossible in football. The schedules are short and playing a game over is out of the question.
Taking a victory away from a team three or four days after the game is over is a serious thing. When New York University made the touchdown that gave them the one-point lead over Columbia the New York team played an entirely different game than if a safety giving them only two points had been allowed.

Barnstormers Win

TOKIO — The all-star American professional baseball team yesterday defeated Meiji University 11 to 0.
Stout broke through, tackled Gierke so viciously that the ball bounded out of his hands and was recovered by Princeton on about the 16-yard line. Stout's desperate tackle, causing Harvard to fumble, had put the Tigers in a position to score.

YANK CASTOFF MAY BE STAR

Will "Lefty" O'Doul make good with the Boston Red Sox and thereby be able to give the laugh to the New York Americans and Manager Miller Huggins?
O'Doul after the close of the season was sent to Boston as final payment in the deal that brought Joe Bush, Sam Jones and Everett Scott to New York.
O'Doul has been the property of New York for five or six years. He was secured from the Coast League and after warming the bench for several years, getting little or no chance to break in, he was sent back to the coast.
In 1921 as a member of the San Francisco club of the Coast League he won 25 games and lost nine for a percentage of .723. In spite of effectiveness he ranked second in the league, allowing only 2.39 runs per game. Vic Aldridge, who pitched fine ball for the Chicago Cubs last year, was the only pitcher to top O'Doul in that respect.
Aside from his pitching, O'Doul who is a good hitter, was used in pinch roles at the bat. He had a batting average of .323. His record as a batter and pitcher was so good that he was recalled by the Yankees.
The New York club was without a southpaw and it was felt that O'Doul was just the man to fill the bill. For some reason O'Doul got very few chances and when he did he usually floundered.
As a result he spent last year warming the bench in his usual role in a New York uniform. Now he is a member of the Boston Red Sox.
If O'Doul has it in him to be a big league star he will get the long-awaited chance next season. Boston is weak on pitching. O'Doul is a big, husky left-hander, who in his few starts has always been shy on control. He has attributed his shyness to lack of work and probably he is right.

SARAZEN WILL LAST LONG

Gene Sarazen, who has already won most of the 1922 honors in golf, seems destined to reign supreme for a long time.
Sarazen is young, takes the very best care of himself and has not permitted his great success to change the size of his hat.
There is no nineteenth hole for Sarazen. When the game is over it is the showers, then the big feed for the present champ. None of the championship affairs resolve themselves into booze parties for Sarazen.
Gene takes the game seriously. He has already made a lot of money out of it and intends to make a great deal more. It is his livelihood and he means to nurse Sarazen eight days after his recent operation for appendicitis was strolling around a golf course is proof of the excellent health that he enjoys.
Sarazen looks like the one best bet to hold a high place in golfing circles for years to come.

YANKS TO KEEP CARL MAYS

NEW YORK — The question, "What is to become of Carl Mays?" which has been agitating baseball circles for the last week, with rumors that he was to be sent to the minors denied by equally unverified reports that he was to go to the Cincinnati Reds, appeared to be settled today. Colonel Huston, part owner of the New York American team, has announced that Mays will remain with the Yanks.
Once more the dope has been upset in football.

OWEN STARS IN THREE SPORTS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — George Owen, star of the Harvard football team, is one of the busiest athletes in captivity. Owen, aside from being the big threat of the Crimson eleven, is also captain of the hockey and baseball teams.
Owen, after finishing the football season against Yale on November 25, will two days later take up his duties as hockey leader.
The popularity of Owen at Harvard is proved by the fact that he has been honored in each sport by being elected to the captaincy. He is a star on the diamond, gridiron or ice, but has won his greatest fame as a football player.
Harvard will miss Owen on the football field when he graduates, as Harvard's offense for several years has been built around him.
While Owen has not been as spectacular this year as last, it is believed that he will again be an All-American selection.

BILLY EVANS SAYS

Within the last few weeks two football officials have reversed the rulings made on the field after the game was over and the result regarded as final.
Perhaps the most unusual reversal was that affecting the game between Columbia and New York University. When the game was over the crowd left the field feeling that New York University won the game, 7 to 6.
The students of New York University started celebrating immediately after the game and kept it up until Monday. Those students who wagered on the game and collected their winnings, proceeded to immediately spend them. Defeating Columbia was quite a trick for New York U. and the students made the most of it.
Then comes forth the referee who said that he had made a mistake in allowing the New York touchdown, that it should have been scored a safety, and the result of the game was really 6 to 2 in favor of Columbia instead of 7 to 6 in favor of New York.
In another game a college team left the field believing that it had scored a touchdown. Later, said college was informed by the official that he had erred and the seven points credited were illegal.
These reversals on the part of football officials are a trifle unusual. It raises the question as to how far the jurisdiction of the football officials should extend.
In baseball when an official errs on a question of rule it is a very easy matter to correct the mistake. The game is thrown out and ordered played over. This, of course, is impossible in football. The schedules are short and playing a game over is out of the question.
Taking a victory away from a team three or four days after the game is over is a serious thing. When New York University made the touchdown that gave them the one-point lead over Columbia the New York team played an entirely different game than if a safety giving them only two points had been allowed.

Cage Card Complete

A departure from the usual form will be made when the Central High basketball team opens its season. Instead of evenly dividing the games between home and out of town most of the games will be played in the Central gym.
A study of the schedule shows that five teams which have not played basketball against Central in former years will stack up against them sometime during the coming season. Akron West and Toledo Woodward are the two biggest teams that will show their wares before Central fans this year.
Central will also attend the Delaware tournament this year following the custom in years past. The Red and Green should win most of their games this year and go big at the tourney.
South will oppose Central on Feb. 2nd, in the Central gym and at South on Feb. 14.
Some of the promising material this year is as follows: Captain Seeley, Swisher, Wetherill, Michael, Wolfe, Taylor, Maricle, Wolfe, Frey, Pew, Tinker, Staney, Peitler, Lones, Van Horn and Poling.
The schedule that has been arranged by Manager Dietrick is as follows:
Dec. 16—Bluffton at Central.
Dec. 22—Lafayette at Central.
Jan. 5—Open.
Jan. 12—Piqua at Piqua.
Jan. 20—Toledo Woodward at Central.
Jan. 26—Findlay at Findlay.
Feb. 2—South at Central.
Feb. 9—Springfield at Central.
Feb. 16—Dayton Stivers at Central.
Feb. 16—South at South.
Feb. 24—Akron West at Central.
March 2—Delaware tournament.
March 9—Findlay at Central.

LYNCH SEEKS BATTLES

NEW YORK — Rumor has it that Joe Lynch is seriously thinking of invading foreign climes and picking up some soft money. Joe seems to have designs on London and Paris.
It probably will be more profitable for Joe if he stays at home, unless some one of the many challengers for the bantam crown defeats him. Johnny Kilbane took a trip to England and made a hurried return. John, admits there wasn't anything that looked like real money over there.
Johnny Buff, when he held both the flyweight and bantamweight titles, sought to get some of the European coin, but he soon came back with the information that ordinary bouts here paid more than championship affairs over there.
Like Micky Walker, Joe Lynch can be a real busy young man warding off his many challengers if he is of the inclination.
In four plays Princeton had scored a touchdown and Stout figured prominently in three of the four plays.

BIT OF CONFIDENTIAL ADVICE FOR WIVES ONLY

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)
Confidential advice to wives—Don't take hubby to see "Brothers Under the Skin." It will set a bad example for him. He will probably refuse to do the dishes when he comes home or he may make you realize that for all you bought on the installment plan.
Peter J. Kane is a mean old thing for getting up such a movie. He comes right out and shows the men what rummies they are for being so easy with their wives.
The idea of the play is that women have their way with their husbands too much, whether they are rich or poor. In the matter of wives all men are brothers under the skin.
Vest Craddock, a shipping clerk, and Mille can't get along on $30 a week. Newt's boss and his wife can't get along on $20,000 a year. Through a peculiar and highly amusing set of circumstances Newt witnesses the domestic revolt of his boss. He goes home and surrenders his wife with a similar revolt.
Kane's story and E. Mason Hopwood's direction have resulted in about as entertaining a mixture of comedy and drama as the screen has seen in several months. They are blessed with a cast that includes Pat O'Malley and Helene Chadwick as the poor couple, Norma MacKer as the poor wife, and the rich couple and Mae Busch as the divorcee who helped to keep up the turmoil in the poor man's household.

TAKEN IN LIQUOR CHARGE, CRAMER TELLS POLICE HE FOUND WHISKEY BOTTLES
Judge Emmet Jackson of criminal court is investigating the case of Earl Cramer, 11, of 117 N. Pine-st., arrested Wednesday charged with possession of illicit liquor.
Cramer was taken into custody by Patrolman Souders when the officer saw him fall to the sidewalk near Seals Bros. warehouse. Cramer was first taken to a physician, where a deep gash over the eye, result of the fall, was given attention. Souders then took him to headquarters where two bottles said to have been partially filled with liquor, were found on his person.
Cramer denied the charge of possession when arraigned before Judge Jackson Thursday morning. He attributed his fall and the resulting injury to an attack of epilepsy to which he claims he is subject. Members of the police department substantiated his statement.
He explained the discovery of the bottles on his person by claiming that he had found them and had picked them up without knowing they contained liquor. He makes a practice of picking up bottles and later selling them, he told Judge Jackson. His ailment, he declared, made it impossible for him to work steadily.
Jackson postponed setting the case for trial until he could get more information on Cramer's case.

PYORRHEA
Try this New Treatment for Pyorrhea, Bleeding, Receding Gums with Loose Teeth—at Our Expense.

Broad minded doctors and dentists have given MOAVA DENTAL CREAM—a highly concentrated formula for the treatment of Pyorrhea—a trial are astonished at the rapid results obtained.
It seems almost unbelievable, but it is a fact nevertheless that a few treatments over a period of one or two days takes the gums back better and reduces the soreness. Used faithfully for one week, a decided improvement is seen. Continue for a few weeks until the gums are healthy, the sponginess and soreness all gone and the teeth are firm and immoveable.

SHORT PARAGRAPHS
The oft-mentioned beach at Westkiki forms the background for Betty Compton's new picture, "The White Flower."
When Tom Meighan returned to Pittsburgh last to film scenes for his new George Ade comedy, folks turned out in masses to see him. Two thousand high school students presented him with a petition to lead the football parade, and he did. Pittsburgh, you know, claims Tom as a native son.
Yes, girls, Wally Reid is recovering rapidly, his press agent says. In fact he started work this month on "Mr. Billings Spends His Dime," by Dona Burnett.
Remember "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine"? Mary Miles is going to make a movie of it.
"Ebb Tide," George Melford's new picture, boasts one of the biggest thrills of the season. In it, James Kirkwood, Lila Lee and a huge devil-fish figure in a fight under water. Ugh!

DOG'S LIFE IS SAVED BY BLOOD TRANSFUSION
OAKLAND, Calif. — The life of Major, valuable Boston bull terrier, who has been suffering from effects of swallowing the top of a perfume bottle and a tassel from a chorus girl's gown, was saved by the first blood transfusion operation on record in the treatment of dogs.
Apache, French airedale, gave the blood for the operation which was performed by Doctors G. W. and N. J. Nelson.
While Major will recover, the problem of whether he can retain his pedigree as a pure blood Boston bull, has not yet been decided.

TRY THIS NEW TREATMENT FOR PYORRHEA
Bleeding, Receding Gums with Loose Teeth—at Our Expense.
Broad minded doctors and dentists have given MOAVA DENTAL CREAM—a highly concentrated formula for the treatment of Pyorrhea—a trial are astonished at the rapid results obtained.
It seems almost unbelievable, but it is a fact nevertheless that a few treatments over a period of one or two days takes the gums back better and reduces the soreness. Used faithfully for one week, a decided improvement is seen. Continue for a few weeks until the gums are healthy, the sponginess and soreness all gone and the teeth are firm and immoveable.
All druggists, who sell MOAVA TOOTH PASTE, are authorized to return the purchase price to anyone who cannot see a decided improvement after its use. Green's Public Drug Store.—Adv.

STOCK MARKET ON DOWNTURN

Stamp Follows Spectacular Advance—Liquidation Brings Drop

NEW YORK — Discouraged by the liquidation of numerous dividend increases and further large stock dividends the bulls resumed their attack against the short interests at the outset of today's stock market.

Some of the most effective advances of 1 to 2 points throughout the day, especially yesterday's week issues, especially the Consolidated Gas and the Texas Gulf Sulphur were conspicuously strong. Strength again appears in the higher priced stocks, especially Standard Oil of New Jersey, Dupont and National Biscuit.

Buying of stocks on knowledge that future railroad and industrial earnings were promising went on at a good pace throughout the morning. One of the incidents of the trading was the purchase of two General Electric blocks of 10,000 shares at the price of 15 1/4.

Empirical gains were made by a number of stocks in today's early trading, bullish activity being encouraged by further dividend increases and extra stock distributions.

YOUNG AT NINETY

Aged Women Deceive Friends When They Mask, Dance

NEWARK, N. J. — (Special) — Turning old age into youth is all a matter of clothes and hair. So say Mrs. Elizabeth Tichenor, more than 90, and Miss Agnes Marsh, who has passed 80. Both are inmates of Newark's Home for Aged Women and both were made young for an evening by the deft use of paint, old frocks, masks and false hair.

YOUNGEST EDITOR

Robert Louis Campbell, nine, of Brownsville, Ind., edits and prints the "Hoosier Boy," a four-page paper and does all the work himself. Robert secured his literary background by reading over 1,000 volumes, drawn from the Brownsville Public Library.
